Discovering Who You Are in Christ

LETTERS OF GRACE · WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

For the week of November 9, 2026

SAMPLE EDITION

Dear friend,

If we were sitting across the table with a cup of coffee, I would want you to know this first: I see you — and more than that, God sees you.

Maybe your struggle is one you don't talk about much. Maybe you're the one holding the family together while quietly grieving someone who is still living — a parent whose memory is fading, or a marriage that feels lonelier than being alone. Maybe you're counting days of sobriety and praying your way through every single one. Maybe you're a mama lying awake at 2 a.m., praying for a child who hasn't come home to the Lord — or hasn't come home at all. These are not small things, and you are not carrying them in front of a God who is far away.

He is there. He was there in the hospital hallway. He is there in the quiet kitchen after everyone else is asleep. And He will be there Monday morning, when the week stretches out in front of you and you wonder where the strength will come from.

> His Word promises: "It is the LORD who goes before you. He will be with you; he will not leave you or forsake you. Do not fear or be dismayed." — Deuteronomy 31:8

So as this new week begins, you don't have to be strong enough for all of it today. Just take the next step with the One who has never left your side — not once, not even on your worst day. There is grace for this week, friend. And there is rest for your heart in Him.

With love, and prayers for your week ahead,

Sincerely,

Diamond C. Williams
